EXPLORE LINCOLN

Begin Now

MORNING

Begin your day by immersing yourself into Lincoln's food and drink culture by visiting Lincoln's largest Farmers Market located in the Historic Haymarket District. Peruse the market, taste the products, and visit with local farmers, vendors, and entertainers. During the off season, experience the ultimate Farm-to-Fork Breakfast experience at Bread & Cup, also located in the Historic Haymarket.

Lincoln, NE

AFTERNOON

After the Farmers Market, take a short journey out to Lakehouse Farm and Prairie Plate Restaurant where you will enjoy an experience like no other. You will have the opportunity to tour the local organic farm and dine lakeside in rural Nebraska where the region and season provide the foundation for the Farm-to-Table menu.

Get a taste of local craft brew at Blue Blood Brewery and Robbers Cave. Blue Blood Brewery is a local brewpub that sits above Robber's Cave, a 5,000sq ft. maze of sandstone cave tunnels, the majority of which was created as lagering caverns in 1869 by Lincoln's first brewery. Explore the rich history in Robbers Cave and then sit back and relax with beer sampling.

EVENING

Experience a slice of France while dining at The Normandy. Growing up in France, Chef and Owner, Lawrence De Villers, came from a family steeped in wealth, privilege and politics. During this dining experience, you will hear the inspiring story of how Lawrence made his way to America while dining on authentic French cuisine.

Finish off the evening with a specialty cocktail at The Other Room. The bar itself embraces an air of mystery, complete with a secret address and a speakeasy-style back alley door one must knock upon to enter, unless the light outside is glowing red.
